

The INNOVEX Capabilities MIGRATION SERVICES

Your business needs its data to operate. Eventually that data needs to move to a different location or to new hardware, due to IT upgrades, process changes, or other business initiatives.

The process requires careful execution:

- Data must be moved accurately and completely.
- Your data must be protected during migration.
- The migration must be done as quickly as possible to minimize downtime.

Migrations can be expensive but the real costs are in downtime caused by a lack of planning and improper execution. Most in-house IT teams don't have the opportunity to perform migrations often enough to keep you up-to-date.

INNOVEX follows best practice migration operating procedures for assessment, design, readiness and execution to deliver consistent, positive results.
